

Blurbs- Theatre for Young Audiences

Blue

Join Pale Blue and Inky Blue in their blue-tiful garden, where blue flowers sprout in blue pots with the help of some water, a song, and some theatre magic! All is well until one day... a stubborn RED flower blooms in their harmonious blue world! Can Pale and Inky agree how to approach this colorful intruder?

Naked Mole Rate Gets Dressed

When clothing suddenly falls from the sky, Wilbur J. Mole Rat rocks the colony with his decision to get dressed! In a community where baring is caring and skin is in, can Wilbur find the courage to march to the beat of his own drum? Or better yet, rock to the rhythm of his own electric guitar? This rollicking adaptation of Mo Willems' beloved picture book explores what can happen when we have the courage to be ourselves.

Anatole

Meet Anatole, mouse magnifique, the best cheese-taster in all of France! In this whimsical musical adventure, Anatole and his best friend Gaston set out to save Duval cheese factory from bankruptcy, only to discover something much scarier than moldy brie lurking in the tasting room. Can Anatole outsmart the hungry predator and save the factory? Join Anatole, Gaston, and a chorus of dancing cheese to find out!

Escape from Peligro Island

Callaway Brown - an unlikely young hero - has been stranded on a desert island, and YOU decide what happens next! Audience members create their own adventure in this interactive romp through time and space. Will Callaway time travel to the Wild West and meet a talking horse? Develop superpowers and fight crime in the future? Or have a crush on a vampire? The choice is yours, and there are 70 ways the story could go!

Aquarium

Enter a fantastical island world where fish soar through the air, lemons light up the sky, and sheep go parading by. With gentle music, puppets, and props, guides Jack and Calypso lead children and caregivers in an interactive journey to a magical place of play.

Wake Up, Brother Bear

Sister Bear and Brother Bear are back from hibernation to take your little ones on an interactive journey through the seasons. Meet a curious butterfly, play in a rushing waterfall, and catch lightning bugs as the bears frolic through the forest in this unforgettable live theatre experience. Reimagined for this 10th anniversary performance, this audience favorite is sure to delight and inspire.
